

Evidence From the Past

We use evidence from the past to help us to understand what life was like. Lots of evidence survives from Ancient Greek times.

Artefacts are objects, which have been _____ away or lost, or which have been kept _____ they are special or precious. From Greek times we have artefacts like jewellery, pottery and lots of smaller things used every _____. In Greece today there are many buildings, which the _____ Greeks built.

Pictures show us _____ the Ancient Greeks dressed and tell us about their lives. Lots of Greek pottery has _____ on it. There are lots of pieces of _____ from the Greek period, including plays, stories and _____.

Writing, Ancient, thrown, how, because, histories, day, pictures.

Now use the textbooks to find one example of each piece of evidence – artefact, building, picture, writing, and copy the picture of it into your book.

Evidence from the past

Cut out all the types of evidence and stick each under the correct heading.

Sparta

Cut and stick these pictures to go under the headings Spartan or Modern England.

Most children stay with their parents.

Ill babies cared for.

All children go to school

Weak babies left to die.

Boys taken from their parents at 7.

All boys trained as soldiers

Boys taught to steal

Children usually have enough clothes to keep them warm.